

Virtual Realinfo

Virtual Realinfo is an information site publishing latest and useful Virtual Reality news.

Also providing basic introductions to VR/VR devices and buying advices.

We collect latest news and event informations about virtual reality and post to our site. Our VR professionals will also write articals about the latest market analysis and technology. We also have all the basic things you need to know for entering the VR world such like what is VR, what VR can do and what kind of devices you should to buy. When new games, experiences or devices coming out we would try to get them first and then make reviews as quickly as possible so that people can use our website as a guide for future buying. There are lots of info site online now but few of them are in VR topic. So we will act like a guide for both funs and new players.
